HOW HPS USES CANVA

I love using Canva for creating a variety of materials, including slides for our office and commons TVs that share district and school information such as Students of the Month, event details, and staff highlights. Canva's templates make designing flyers for school events so easy, allowing me to easily adapt designs for both social media and paper flyers, with the flexibility to customize colors and content. It's efficient and visually engaging, ensuring our communications are consistently professional and eye-catching.

HOW HPS USES CANVA

Corey and I are teaching a new class at the High School, called Sports Multimedia Production. Our goal with this class is to create and utilize our students' work to promote the great things happening at our school. Canva has made Corey and I's job much easier, because there are multiple tools that save students so much time. One tool they use frequently is the background remover. For nearly every project, students are given a photo, and asked to overlay the image onto a different background. The background remover tool can do this for students in one click. Canva is also great because the brand kit allows students to easily access the logos and color scheme preferred across the district.

HOW HPS USES CANVA

"I love using Canva to fill needs economically- you can't beat free!! I can quickly create professional quality items to use with my students. For example, I created a set of visual cues to remind my students of the main elements when telling a story. I've seen them find more independence with their narrative skills using the resource that I made. I find joy in creating items that are individualized for my students and effective in action!"
